

Do I have to configure the EDI syntax characters before parsing?

Sunday, 04 February 2007

Last Updated Sunday, 04 February 2007

No. EDIReader dynamically recognizes which syntax characters (segment terminator, element separator, etc.) are in use within a given EDI interchange and reacts accordingly. If there are multiple interchange in a stream of EDI input, they are not required to all use the same syntax characters.